

MAPPING DREAMS: THE TRANSITION TO ADULTHOOD

Champaign County Transition Planning Committee

High school-aged youth and young adults and their parents are invited to attend this free educational training on the transition from school to adult life, where you will learn about the importance of parent involvement and high expectations. This training provides an overview of the transition process as part of a student's IEP. Participants will receive instruction about:

- Strategies on the development of "soft skills" and preparation for employment
- Rights and responsibilities related to postsecondary education or training
- An overview of independent living options to consider, including community involvement and leisure and recreation
